- How school funding works. As a parent, I never thought much about where the money comes from or where it goes. The knowledge I received last night was very informational and helped me understand more of what LCSC does.
- Understanding the breakdown of funding buckets
- The power point was very helpful.
- The breakdown of where funding comes from and how it is spent.
- Learning how school funding works and the actual facts of what it covers.
- Seeing the numbers really puts things in perspective
- The visuals helped clarify new information.
- I find it interesting they are giving such a high amount of money to private schools which only account for 4% of Indiana students.
- just getting the background info
- Understanding more fully the challenges that schools face with designated funding. I also loved getting to meet some of the shareholders in our breakout group.
- Learning about charter school funding
- learning that by 2023 the school will be close to being debt free. which makes this a good time to upgrade the facilities

- That taxes would not go up.
- The session this week was very informative. Dr. Milleman did a great job of outlining the information in a manner that was easy to understand. Overall it was valuable to see the graph that shows how the current bond will be falling off soon and how a referendum would not cause an increase on property taxes but they could remain at the same level.

3. What, if anything, would make future sessions better?

- Start with the end in mind. Referendum wasn't mentioned until our breakout session.
- I thought it when well.
- Breaking out into small groups was a great way to dig deeper into the discussion. I think it would be great to continue to implement break out sessions in some format.
- Further knowledge as to how we are communicating such items to the community. I feel it's well understood how communication is shared with employees and families but what about community members?
- Nothing but it will be nice to meet in person
- Being in person! But I though the session was great and very well put together.
- The breakouts were almost too small, 5-6 per group might be better. I am very interested in facilities and the discussion there.

4. What is your preferred format for meetings? (Note: Due to COVID-19 restrictions, meetings will be virtual through at least March)

- It was mentioned about Lebanon Town Council playing a role with Lebanon schools. Does Whitestown play a role?
- Like I shared in an email to Dr. Milleman, your team is going to have to figure out how to share your dilemma and message very clearly and concisely. This will ultimately be a voter issue where very few voters will take the time to get this kind of background. How do you explain the problem in 30 seconds?
- Thank you for your open communication and letting us speak into the future of our students!
- how does school participate with city and county government regarding community/county recruitment and marketing of residential and commercial development? how does LCSC interact with county commissioners and city council to promote residential and commercial development? Do you think the county commissioners/council and city council share our concern about our funding woes?
- I have a deeper appreciation for all that LCSC and the school board
- Thank you for the opportunity to participate.
